

Hello world! We're Mployee.

We connect every stakeholder in the staffing industry by delivering the go-to solution: agile and easy-to-use software built on the Salesforce platform. In the war for talent, every little bit helps. Mployee is here to give you the edge.

We open up your ability to manage contingent workforce at scale. Mployee enables you to onboard and manage your temporary workers all in one place, and implement automation to drive efficiency.

Our story so far

Mployee was founded in 2009 by Roel Waals. As a former CEO of a staffing company, he wanted to put an end to the disconnected IT landscape between clients, candidates and consultants that had been plaguing the industry for years.

Your tech partner for the staffing industry

We've been you, so we get you. To revolutionize staffing, we've built an end-to-end staffing platform that gives you 100% flexibility, so you can fully focus on staffing and secondment.

Software written just for the staffing industry

Our unique blend of specialist coders and staffing industry experts created a solution for your entire staffing Front Office and Middle Office. With self-service portals and great UX design we optimize the candidate journey, while never losing sight of that oh-so important personal touch. Built on the Salesforce platform, with regular updates and new features rolled out regularly to keep you ahead of the game.
